The location is the argument here. The National Technical University of Athens is a three-minute walk (250 m), the National Archaeological Museum five minutes (400 m), the nearest metro a fifteen-minute walk or five-minute drive. Syntagma is 1.7 km, the Acropolis 2.8 km, the National Garden 2.5 km, Ermou Street 2 km.

A serviced residential building rather than a conventional block: reception, laundry service, vending, parking support, gym and sauna on the ground floor, and a rooftop bar with distant views to the Acropolis, Lycabettus and the sea. The apartments run from 24.65 to 42.1 m², graded across the floors — City, Superior, Premium and Signature — with prices rising by level and orientation. Almost every unit has a balcony.

The threshold follows the zone and the route

The qualifying threshold is set by the zone the property sits in and by the route chosen, and must be confirmed for each individual unit. The €250,000 level is not location-based: under current law it applies only where a non-residential property has been converted to residential use, or where a listed building is restored. We confirm the route and the supporting file for every unit before reservation.

RENTAL OUTLOOK

Walking distance to the National Technical University sets the floor under demand — student and academic tenancies run on a predictable annual cycle. The managed services layer removes most of the day-to-day burden of letting from a distance, which is the practical constraint for owners who are not resident in Greece.
