Vyronas sits on the Ymittos foothills about 3 km southeast of the centre, on the edge of Pangrati. It is one of those Athenian districts that never had a boom and never needed one: settled, green, well served, and quietly close to everything. The Panathenaic Stadium is 2.5 km, the National Garden 3 km, Syntagma 3.5 km, and the Acropolis and historic centre 4 km. Metro Line 2 at Agios Ioannis (2 km) and Dafni (2.5 km) runs direct to Syntagma and the Acropolis.

Four two-bedroom residences arranged around a shared entrance, 62.65 to 69.64 m², each named and each with its own character: The Garden Residence, The Agora, The Atelier and The Corner Residence. The design language is warm and restrained — natural materials, muted tones, clean lines, finishes chosen to age rather than date.

The threshold follows the zone and the route

The qualifying threshold is set by the zone the property sits in and by the route chosen, and must be confirmed for each individual unit. The €250,000 level is not location-based: under current law it applies only where a non-residential property has been converted to residential use, or where a listed building is restored. We confirm the route and the supporting file for every unit before reservation.

RENTAL OUTLOOK

Vyronas and Pangrati let to a stable domestic tenant base — families, academics and professionals who want space and a short commute rather than a central address. Two-bedroom units above 60 m² are the scarce product in this market, and they hold tenants for longer terms than the small central stock.
