3 • Terms

- The client acknowledges having first learned of the property and of its exact address, building location, floor and unit details through Avla.
- Following completion and confirmation of this form, Avla discloses the exact location to the client. The disclosed information is commercially confidential and may not be passed to third parties.
- The client accepts that Avla is entitled to its service fee even if the property is purchased or leased directly from the owner, the developer, the contractor or through another intermediary, including where the transaction is completed by a relative or a company of the client.
- This form remains valid for twelve (12) months from the date of signature. Any transaction within this period falls within its scope.
- Avla's service fee is subject to the rate and conditions set out in the separate brokerage agreement signed between the parties.
- Completing this form places no obligation on the client to purchase; it records the disclosure of location information and acceptance of the above terms.
